

Sharing Information Online

Look at the following pieces of information below with your child. Talk about which ones are safe to share when you are talking to someone you don't know – online or in real life.

your name

what you like to eat

your favourite superhero

a password

your address

a song you like

the name of your school

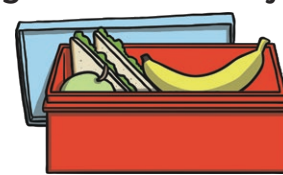

the name of your pet

your phone number

what you have had for lunch

your favourite game

what you think about the game you're playing or the site you're on a photo of you or your family what you have learnt at school
